

Dr Christian Mensching, LL.M. (Columbia)

Partner

Career

Born in Brussels in 1977. Studied law at the University of Bonn. 2002 first State examination, 2006 second State examination. 2002-2003 research associate at the Chair of Prof Dr Herdegen. 2003-2004 Columbia University School of Law, New York, USA, received an LL.M. in 2004.

Joined the firm in 2007.

Dr Christian Mensching, LL.M. (Columbia)
Bonn
T +49 228 72625-174
F +49 228 72625-99
mensching@redeker.de Assistance:
Manja Körfer

Practice

Press and broadcasting law, new media, constitutional law, European and international law.

Recommended by Legal 500 in media law/press and publishers.

Member of the German-American Lawyers' Association. Member of the intellectual property and media working group of the German Bar Association.

Regular advice, including acting as counsel – both in and out of court – for small and medium-scale enterprises as well as listed companies, prominent public and political figures, universities and research organisations along with federal and state authorities in press and public relations matters and proceedings, both prior to an expected report – e. g. in the case of media queries and research – including after reports have already been published.

Acting as counsel on a regular basis for two public broadcasters in court proceedings involving press and public relations.

Advising and acting as counsel for various federal and state authorities as well as enterprises in connection with rights and access to information, such as provided for under federal and state freedom-of-information laws and law governing the press and archives.

Publications

Publications in the fields of public, European and international law.

Languages

German, English