REDEKER | SELLNER | DAHS

Dr Stefanie Schulz-Große

counsel

Career

Studied law in Bochum. First state examination in 2012, second state examination in 2019. Legal traineeship at the Regional Court of Bochum, with stations at, among others, the Scientific Services of the German Bundestag, a major international law firm in Düsseldorf and the Federation of German Industries (BDI) in Berlin with a focus on data protection law. From 2012 to 2018 research assistant at the Chair of Public Law and European Law of Prof. Dr. Wolfram Cremer at the Ruhr University in Bochum. Doctorate in 2018.

2019 joined the firm.

Dr Stefanie Schulz-Große
Berlin
T +49 30 885665-248
F +49 30 885665-99
schulz-grosse@redeker.de
Office:
Laureen Pempel

Practice

data protection law, data protection litigation, artificial intelligence law

Lecturer for data protection law at the FernUniversität in Hagen

Ongoing data protection advice to national and international companies and corporate groups on data protection issues, in particular on the introduction and design of new digital business models (e. g. future-oriented financial services and mobility concepts with autonomous vehicles); advice to healthcare institutions on the sector-specific regulations of social data protection; Representing companies as well as federal and state authorities in proceedings before data protection supervisory authorities; litigation, in particular before administrative and social courts; legal advice on the development and use of AI-based technologies, in particular with regard to the AI Regulation; in-house AI law training.

Publications

Publications on data protection, constitutional and school law.

Languages

German, English